Paris of an upheaval in France, it has been suggested that the Spanish cause is in such shape that the Spanish government thus nothing to lose and everything to gain by any change that can be brought about. However, it may be stated that in the opinion of the state department officials here there is little danger of the situation in Paris becoming so acute as to justify an abandonment of the work of the commission.

The commissioners themselves are in mo physical danger. It is confidently believed that with the Jange of the tabinet in France the present disorder will subside, and normal conditions will be restored. It is always possible that the Spanish commissioners, in despatial to present disorder will subside, and normal conditions will be restored. It is always possible that the Spanish commissioners, in despatis will subside, and normal conditions will be restored. It is always possible that the Spanish commissioners, in despair over their failure to force the Cuban debt upon the finited States in any shape, may break off the sessions, but this is not regarded as probable.

No one knows officially just what the extent of the United States claim will be as to the Philippines. Admiral Dewey has a much higher opinion of the Philippine people and their canacity for self-government than is generally supposed. He has represented to the American commissioners that the Philippines of the northern group (meaning by shat, first, the people on the island of Luron, and after that, in order. Cebu. Panny, Leite, Mindora and Saraur) are, as a rule, intelligent, fracticable and (most surprising statement) for better qualified for self-government than the handling and personal experience with the qualifications of the Cubans in this respect as almost any naval officer, having had personal experience with the people, so that his statement is bound to have weight with the American commissioners. But with all this, he has made no recommendation are likely to be based upon their original instructions, qualified by any change of opinion the president may have experienced as a result of his western trip.
